Yesterday I went to the Tokyo International Airport for the first time. A lot of people were coming and going, and they were all carrying big suitcases. Why do so many people go to foreign countries?

Many people go to foreign countries to work or to study. My uncle often goes to the U.S. *on business. I know that many of my friends want to study there. They hope to study English and to understand how the people study Japanese. I think it is necessary for us to enjoy studying English more.

Lisa was a junior high school student in a big city. She liked reading books very much, so she went to the library by bus every Sunday. An old man also got on the bus at the same bus stop. She thought, "That man always reads a book. What is he reading today?" She wanted to talk to him, but she didn't have a *chance to talk to him for a long time.

One day, Lisa's friend, John, said, "Lisa, what do you want to be in the future? I want to be a teacher because I like children. Mary says she wants to work at a restaurant because she likes cooking." Lisa couldn't answer that. She thought, "My friends have their plans for the future, but I don't. The next Sunday morning, Lisa found the man on the bus again. He was reading a book. She was very interested in it, so she said to him, "Can I talk to you?" "Yes, of course. You get on this bus every Sunday. My name is James Patrick. Nice to meet you." "I'm Lisa. Nice to meet you too. Mr. Patrick, what are you reading now?" "It's a book about animals. I like reading about them." Then, they talked about their favorite books. She felt very happy.

A few days later, Lisa's dog became sick. She *took him to an animal hospital near the station with her mother. When they were waiting, Lisa saw Mr. Patrick. She was very surprised. He worked there. Then, he saw her and said, "Hi, Lisa! What's the matter with your dog?"

Mr. Patrick did everything he could do for Lisa's dog. He said to Lisa, "Your dog is now feeling better. He will be well soon." "Thank you, Mr. Patrick. You are an animal doctor, aren't you? You are (ア). You've *saved my dog." "Well, I can't do it without the help of the people working here," he said.

Then, Mr. Patrick took her to some rooms in the animal hospital. She saw cats, dogs and other animals there. Many people were taking care of them. They looked very busy. They were cleaning the *cages, giving food to the animals and washing the animals' dishes. He said to Lisa, "Look at them. All of us work together. It's very hard work, but we want to save sick animals. We are happy that we can do something for them. Then, the people who *keep them are also very (イ)."

Lisa felt warm and said to Mr. Patrick, "I've just *found out something important. There are many things I don't know about (ウ). But maybe there is something I can do for other people. Thank you, Mr. Patrick. *Someday I will come here again and tell you my plans for the future."
